

Baseball and Softball (The Skills of the Game)

Baseball and Softball is part of an instructional series of sports books. Spread across 35 titles, it presents the basics of a subject clearly and accessibly with photographs, text and diagrams updated for the 1990s. In this book, the reader is taken through all aspects of this growing, deceptively complex sport. Detailed instruction on rules and techniques is accompanied by sequence photographs and line drawings. It also offers advice on team strategy and training with drills on each technique explained from pitching to base running. Steve Herbert, President of the British Baseball Federation has endorsed this book.
